

BUFFALO ITEMS.

BY PEG.

What can be said in favor of, or to screen the rebel leaders, now in our midst? None now should have a heart so full of love akin to treason, as to offer one word in their behalf, so long as they oppose in secret, and openly the government of the United States. Not long since a noted rebel leader came home bringing with him his son, a young man, who was severely wounded. He came among us claiming the protection of that Government he had tried with other arch-rebels like himself, to overthrow. He lives now protected by the government, and in return for it, is carrying on underground, secret communication with rebels, and it is not for our good, nor for the good of the country, although the special interest of farmers seem to be consulted by him, in the construction of a "ditching plow," made I suppose to plow the last ditch into which rebels and rebellion is fast falling. Mr. Rebel the people can see through your flimsy pretext; you have ruled these people long enough; your power over them is now at an end.

Your whole purpose is to reorganize that great political humbug—Brooklyn Bridge Democracy, which is sinking into the depths of obscurity where it and its framers are following with swift pace. The day that saw your hand lifted against your country, saw you robbed of that little honor you retained. You will wander about among men with the murderous guilt upon your soul; till Death shall come, and you go to your dreadful doom. The people know you, and knowing you dispise you for persuading their children and husbands into the "Buffalo Guards," causing them to be slain to uphold your hellish schemes. We will remember you.

We have heard of rebels remarking, that they would rather see the South a desolation, than that one foot of Southern soil be retained by the cursed Abolitionist.

Such a spirit could only be conceived by a Devil incarnate; you would turn every green valley into a waste; abodes of happiness into haunts of misery; every home into a grave; make starvation and madness mark your course. Where lately stood flourishing towns, is a heap of smouldering ruins. Where stood the quiet farm house, is now known only as a mass of charred cinders! All this and more would you do to your country, that you might escape the vengeance coming upon you, but your work is vain. Turn every green valley into a desert. The happy spots of earth into dens of misery and want. Convert our homes into graves. Make every tree a gallows. Cause blood to flow in streams from the nation's breast, you do all this, yet will the Constitution and Union raise above this sea of evil, and joy of the heart of this great people, giving glad shouts that their labor is not vain. Our country's honor is redeemed, and will shine more glorious for the present darkness which envelops it. Victory is in our grasp, and your traitors will soon share a felon's doom.

The rebel ladies [if any female rebel is a lady] want to make themselves very conspicuous, by sitting upon the sidewalks and singing songs of the chivalry. Now ladies, let Peg who has eyes and can see, ears and can hear, give you a little advice. Never be caught on the street singing songs of Jeff. Davis, it is not lady-like, and is impolitic, and will give you or your husbands trouble. Instead of devoting with eager haste the idle gossip you propagate, endeavor to study your little household affairs. Above all things do not speak in favor of rebellion, for your own honor and that of your husbands, and your little children. Remember now. Don't let the people know that you are tattling female rebels.

Our worthy friend and fellow citizen I. R. Shank, died at his residence in this place, on Saturday evening the 14th inst. His loss will be deeply felt in his little household, and his loyal fellow citizens, will sadly miss him. His death was caused by an overburdened mind. His son being impressed into the rebel army, and the many taunts heaped upon him by Rebel Devils in our midst, so weighed upon his mind that brain fever and nervous prostration was produced, which caused his death.

Rebels your doom is coming swift, and none shall stand between you and justice meted out to you by an outraged Providence.

Head Quarters.

CAMP RAVENSWOOD,
June 7, 1862.

The bogus Southern Confederacy having inaugurated a guerrilla war in Western Virginia, a warfare which is alike inhuman and disgraceful to the civilization of the age, I deem it my duty to promulgate the following Order, that all concerned may understand the course I intend to pursue.

1. All persons found in arms, in the County of Jackson known as Moccasin or Mountain Rangers, will be shot in pursuance of the order of the Commanding General of this Department. It will be no protection to such persons that they may have or claim to have, authority from either John Letcher, Jefferson Davis, or any other person in the interest of the aforesaid bogus Southern Confederacy, to do any of the unlawful acts for which they are banded together.

2. If any person holding office either under the restored Government at Wheeling or that of the United States, shall be molested in their persons or property by any of the aforesaid marauders, besides incurring upon themselves (the said Moccasin or Rangers) the penalty of death, it will subject to arrest and being held as hostages, all of the old officers or other persons who voted for the Ordinance of Secession.

3. If the persons or property of any Union men, women or child shall be molested or in anywise injured by any of the aforesaid marauders, or by any person sympathizing with the aforesaid bogus Southern Confederacy, a number of secessionists equal to five of such persons so injured or molested as aforesaid, will be seized and made to respond for all damages, life for life, and by five times the amount of property destroyed or stolen.

4. All persons harboring sympathizing with, concealing, or aiding by information or otherwise, any Moccasin or Mountain Ranger within the County of Jackson, or knowing of their presence in any locality in said County, and not immediately giving information to the Commandant of this Post, will be treated as Moccasin or Rangers themselves. And any person giving information calculated to abate the Rebellion or those engaged in it, will be arrested, forthwith and treated as spies. No person will be allowed to advocate the doctrine of Secession, or to speak offensively, either of the restored Government at Wheeling, or of the Government of the United States.

5. For the killing, maiming or wounding of any Union Soldier, man, woman or child, or the destruction of property, public or private, within this County, I shall hold known Secessionists responsible therefor.

It is within the power of the restored Government of Virginia to vindicate the laws and protect the lives and property of the people. And I call upon all who would see law and order restored in our midst, to be active and vigilant in reporting to these Headquarters any infractions of law or of this Order, and measures will be promptly taken to punish the offender or offenders.

The Richmond Examiner Advises Assassination.

The Richmond Examiner, of the 9th inst., devotes its editorial column to deploring such a fact that there is found no individual desperate and weary of living by the wretchedness this invasion has brought on him, as to substitute what may be an ignominious suicide for a glorious martyrdom. This is intended, doubtless, as an incentive to assassination of the United States officers who have taken possession of the rebel territory. The paper is printed on a half sheet, and is a striking evidence of the impoverished condition of affairs in Richmond.

DR. ROBACK'S REMEDIES.

We publish in another column of today's paper, an article copied from the Cincinnati Times, descriptive of Dr. Roback's extensive medical establishment in that city. By the way, Dr. Roback's Remedies have obtained a great and deserved popularity with all classes. It has been but a short time since these Remedies were introduced into our section of country—yet Dr. Brennan, Dr. Roback's agent in this place, informs us that his sales of the Blood Pills and Blood Purifier now far exceed those of all other medicines for which he is agent, combined. The reason for this, is, that they have stood the test of practical experience. We know this not only from the mouths of others, but we have used them in our own family with the very best results. For all diseases of the blood, general debility, whether proceeding from sickness or from natural weakness, indigestion, and all kindred ailments; we recommend the Scandinavian Remedies as the very best medicines extant. They are destined to achieve not an ephemeral success, but a permanent and deserved reputation, which will render them a necessity in every family.—Napoleon, O., Northwest.
